REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT

Thanks to the superb efforts of our students, families, teachers, staff, and administrators, the Chesterfield County School District continued to show progress in many important areas during the 2008-2009 school year. The district earned national accreditation from AdvancED, indicative of the high quality of education in our schools.

On the PACT test, Chesterfield County students scoring advanced or proficient increased in all subject areas for 4th, 6th, and 7th grades, and increased in math, science, and social studies for 3rd and 5th grades. Eighth graders saw an increase in the number of students that scored at the advanced or proficient level in science.

On the High School Assessment Program test (HSAP), Chesterfield High and McBee High bettered the state average of students who passed both sections of the test on their first attempt.

Central Pageland High School and Chesterfield High School both had composite SAT scores that bettered the state average and the national average with composite scores of 1,545 and 1,521, respectively.

Six Chesterfield County schools were recognized for academic achievement, student academic improvement, and closing achievement gaps in 2008. The Education Accountability Act of 1998 created the Palmetto Gold and Palmetto Silver awards program. The program includes two parts – recognition for general school performance as well as progress in closing achievement gaps between groups of students. Chesterfield High School earned gold awards in both areas, and Cheraw High School won silver awards in both areas. Long Middle School, McBee Elementary School, and McBee High School won silver awards for general school performance, while Ruby Elementary School earned a silver award for closing achievement gaps.

Two teachers earned National Board Certification, bringing the total to 70 for the district. Chesterfield County schools also had 33 Junior Scholars, six Duke TIP Scholars, and seventeen National History Day participants.

Our students continued to excel in athletics; Chesterfield High School won a state championship in football and wrestling, and a number of student-athletes won individual state championship in their respective sports.

Eight Chesterfield County schools won gold awards from the USDA Food and Nutrition Service for meeting the USDA's HealthierUS School Challenge at the highest level.

I would like to thank all of the teachers, principals, district staff members, and other district employees, as well as citizens, for working cooperatively to provide a positive environment, which enables all students in Chesterfield County to receive a quality education. I challenge you to build on these successes in the future.

John E. Williams, Ph.D.
